Subject: Application for Senior Data Analyst Position

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my keen interest in the Senior Data Analyst position at Trusting Social, as posted on LinkedIn. With over 3 years of experience in lending analytics and risk management, coupled with a proven track record of leveraging data to drive strategic decisions, I am confident in my ability to contribute significantly to your organization's success.

In my current role as Senior Data Analyst at Validus Vietnam - a leading SME growth financing in SEA, I lead end-to-end credit analytics initiatives, resulting in the enhancement of credit policies and risk controls. My technical proficiency spans various data tools and technologies, enabling me to excel in data curation, wrangling, validation, visualization, and reporting. I combine these technical skills with strong business acumen to extract meaningful insights from complex datasets and effectively communicate them to stakeholders at all levels.

I am particularly drawn to Trusting Social's mission of expanding financial access through advanced data science and technology, especially your recent initiatives in developing AI-powered products. This aligns with my passion for leveraging data to drive innovation and create meaningful impact.

I welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experiences can contribute to Trusting Social's continued success. Thank you for considering my application.

Best regards,

Tuan Le Khac
